

Hi-Desert Star

We can't wait!

REBECCA UNGER Hi-Desert Star

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas — and Hanukkah, and Kwanzaa, and Bodhi Day — at the Hi-Desert Nature Museum. Visiting Tuesday, Kadence and Elisha Bazzle of Yucca Valley like the traditional tree with hand-made ornaments. "We've been listening to Christmas music all week," mom Renee said with a laugh. "Kadence couldn't wait, so we've got up our tree already." The "Seasons of Light" holiday exhibit is up through Dec. 22.
